

ALLA NATIONAL WEBINAR

Exploring the Albanese Government's proposed reforms of gig work regulation

The Fair Work Legislation Amendment (Closing Loopholes) Bill includes important proposed changes to the regulation of platform work in Australia, including a statutory definition of employment and powers for the Fair Work Commission to set standards and settle disputes for employee-like workers. In this ALLA webinar, our panel of expert speakers will explore the key features and implications of these significant reforms (if they are enacted and implemented in early 2024).

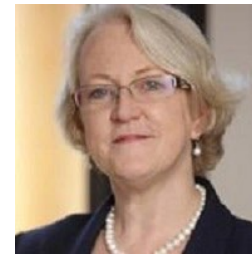

DATE Thursday, 9 November 2023

TIME 5:00pm AEDT

Online via Zoom webinar

REGISTER HERE

This event is free of charge, but places are limited.

Joellen Riley-Munton is a Professor of Law at UTS and former Dean of Law at Sydney Law School. She is admitted as a legal practitioner in NSW, and is a consultant with Harmers Workplace Lawyers, and a Vice President of the Australian Institute of Employment Rights.

Michael Rawling is a Senior Lecturer at the Faculty of Law at the University of Technology Sydney. A key focus of his research has been how to regulate business models (such as supply chains and gig economy arrangements) based on precarious work and deployed to evade employment law.

Nicholas Ellery is a leading practitioner in industrial relations, employment, workplace health and safety and related fields. Nick joined the Bar after a 24-year career at Corrs Chambers Westgarth, where he managed the Perth workplace and safety practice, led the Perth office as Partner in Charge for over 10 years, and served on the national Board.