

Dr. May Thida Aung obtained her PhD in Human Rights and Peace studies from the Institute of Human Rights and Peace Studies of Mahidol University, Thailand in 2018. Her PhD project was related to the protection of Myanmar local songwriters from being exploited by commercial broadcasting organization by using human rights framework. She worked as lecturer at different Law Departments under Ministry of Education of Myanmar from 2005 to early 2018. Currently, she is working as a national legal adviser at the Denmark-Myanmar Programme on Rule of Law and Human Rights implemented by the Danish Institute for Human Rights and International Commission of Jurists. As part of the responsibilities, she is providing technical supports to Dagon University and East Yangon University for the systematic introduction of human rights education and research. She is also doing research on copyright, cultural rights, human rights and peace education and role of gender in rice value chain of Myanmar in her private time as a freelance researcher