The Law Society of New South Wales
Level 5, 55 Hunter Street
Sydney NSW 2000

(Cnr Hunter and Elizabeth Streets)

Date: Wednesday 27 October 2010
Time: 5:30pm - 7:30pm
Donation: $50 Conc: $25

RSVP
Return form to Michelle Fiddes by
Monday 25 October 2010

By fax: 02 9921 8123
By mail: GPO Box 521, Sydney 2001
By phone: 02 9921 4814
By email: michelle.fiddes@minterellison.com

Limited seating

We are delighted that this year’s address will be given by Janet Albrechtsen, columnist with The Australian newspaper.

Women – We’ll never get anywhere with quotas

Before the Address, the recipient of the 2010 Julian Small Research Grant will be awarded.

The primary aim of the Foundation is to foster the study, research and development of the law relating to employment and industrial relations in Australia. This has been made possible through the generous support of many of Julian’s former clients, colleagues, family and friends.

Refreshments will be served afterwards. * 1 MCLE/CPD point

Name of attendee/s....................................................................................................................................................................................

Address ...........................................................................................................................................................................................................

Daytime phone: .......................................................... ...................................................................................................................................................

Email address...................................................................................................................................................................................................

Please return with cheque (to The Julian Small Foundation Limited) or cash payment to:

Michelle Fiddes
Minter Ellison, GPO Box 521, Sydney NSW 2001